

Request for Information From Security Industry 14 December 2011:

INDIAN SECURITY GUARD HOMICIDE SELWOOD ROAD HENDERSON 18 NOVEMBER 2011:

Waitakere Police are seeking information from the security industry to help solve the enquiry into the murder of Charanpreet DHALIWAL on 18 November 2011.

Charanpreet known as 'Lucky' is a 22 year old Indian Student. He was working his first nightshift as a security guard on the Fulton Hogan construction site at 2 Selwood Road, Henderson.

His body was located at 3.15am on Friday 18 November 2011 by Fulton Hogan staff returning a work vehicle. A medical examination established that he has died from head injuries as a result of being assaulted.

The construction site where the body was found is located nearby the Lincoln Road – North Western Motorway over bridge.

Police are appealing to anyone who was in this area between midnight and 3.00am on Friday 18 November 2011 to come forward. The security industry can play a crucial role in this investigation. Police have identified a number of security guards from a range of companies who were working in the area on the night of 17 November 2011.

Police want to speak with any security guards who were working in Selwood Road and The Concourse on the night of the murder. Police are trying to identify all persons in this area at the time to interview them to obtain a complete picture of events and movements on the night.

Police also want to know of any other suspicious activity and offences in the weeks leading up to the murder. To assist in this task could you please supply the following information.

1. Whether you conduct any work in this area, (map attached for your reference)
2. What type of work it is. (e.g. static, mobile, response)
3. The location/address of the work.
4. If any work was conducted on the 17th or 18th November and the details of this.
5. The names and contact details of staff members that were in the area on the night of 17 November 2011.

These staff members will need to be spoken to by Police from the enquiry team. Thank you for your support of this investigation.
